Annex

Notes on the application form for product testing/certification

Related to 2.1 / 2.2:

We would like to point out that both the product description/designation and the type specified here are components of the test certificate and are therefore listed there in the specified wording. If changes are made to the product description/designation or the type designation during the testing or certification process, these must be notified to the testing and certification body as soon as possible. Costs incurred due to incorrect identification on the certificate and subsequent changes to the certificate documents shall be borne by the customer.
If there is not enough room in the form, please submit any further information in a separate attachment.

Related to 4:

Certificate monitoring with self-disclosure

As part of our regular certificate monitoring, all certificate holders are sent mandatory self-disclosure forms for the certified product.

Information on the test mark

Depending on the product, test marks can be awarded for the certification applied for. The test mark is defined by the certification body in the application procedure.

Related to 7:7:

If more than one type is specified under point 2.2, please submit the production details for all types in a separate annex.
