

Moving Ahead

Vision.Human.Work.

Thomas Hill

BASF SE

Dr. rer. nat. Thomas Hill is Head of BASF's Global Group Concepts and Training in Occupational Safety. Core activities are focused on the development of safety culture and concepts to ensure safe working conditions. The global coordination includes sharing successful practices which fosters effectivity and efficiency. Thomas Hill was born in Hagen, Germany in 1970. From 1990 onward he studied Chemistry at the Ruhr-University Bochum, Germany and received his degree there in 1995. He finished his PhD studies in 1998 at the Fritz-Haber-Institute of the Max-Planck-Society in Berlin and added a postdoc there as well.

Professional Career

- 2015 Head of Occupational Safety – Global Concepts and Training, BASF SE, Ludwigshafen
Head of Global Center of Expertise Occupational Safety
- 2014 Head of Occupational Safety – Training and Information, BASF SE, Ludwigshafen
- 2011 Safety Expert Occupational Safety, BASF SE, Ludwigshafen
- 2008 Senior Plant Manager of a catalyst production plant, BASF SE, Ludwigshafen
- 2006 Plant Manager of a catalyst production plant, BASF AG, Ludwigshafen
- 1999 Joined the Ammonia Laboratory of BASF AG, Ludwigshafen

Memberships

- 2015 Member of the work group “regulations in occupational safety” of the VCI (German Chemical Industry Association).
- 2015 Member of Health and Safety Council, The Conference Board

Contact

Dr. Thomas Hill
Head of Occupational Safety – Global Concepts and Training · GUS/AS – M940 · BASF SE · 67056 Ludwigshafen

Tel. +49 621 60-73063 · Mobil: +49 172 7470125
Fax: +49 621 60-6673063 · thomas.hill@basf.com