Institution of Occupational Safety and Health (IOSH)

Jill Joyce is Technical Adviser to the Institution of Occupational Safety and Health (IOSH). She previously worked for government organisations in the UK, assuring the health and safety of young people at work and for the National Health Service. She has been involved in health and safety for nearly 30 years. She writes articles and guidance on topical occupation safety and health issues. Her main interests are workplace health and well-being, respiratory protection and young people's attitudes to risk. She represents IOSH on the Asthma Partnership Board.
